The trial was again adjourned in order that the bench might communicate with the crown prosecutor. There was a great crowd inside and outside the court, and the priests received an ovation when they made their appearance."

Political Significance.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—While the British public regard the Emperor William's visit as a complimentary family affair, the opinion does not wholly devoid it of a political significance. It is perfectly understood that though Lord Salisbury has not concluded a treaty he is marching in line with the triple alliance, and all disavowals to the contrary the public insist that there is an understanding that Italy is to maintain the existing equilibrium in the Mediterranean. Emperor William has the credit of being a high class diplomatist and though he does not bring Prince Bismarck he brings Prince Bismarck's eager and trusted son. It is, therefore, significant that Lord Salisbury is to be in attendance upon the Queen during the whole of the Emperor's visit. There is much regret that the great chancellor is not present. He desired to come, but considered such a step might provoke suspicion. England had formally joined the alliance and Lord Salisbury wished to avoid giving color to such a conclusion.

British Rights Must be Protected.

The belief here is that when the United States sees the determined attitude of Great Britain, it will no longer obstruct a speedy and peaceful settlement of the question. Reports of an impending ministerial change at Ottawa have reached here from Canada. It is stated that Hon. M. Abbott will be made minister of trade and commerce. The department of Customs and inland revenue being merged into those of finance and trade, Hon. Mr. Abbott says he knows nothing of any such changes and thinks them most unlikely.

Meetings in Germany.

LONDON, August 9.—The German police everywhere throughout the Empire are treating with great rigour the assemblages of workmen in the cities which at the slightest provocation, or at no provocation at all, are presented in advance. A suspicion that a strike is intended, or that the wisdom of ordering a strike is about to be discussed, is sufficient warrant for police interference, although, of course, the reasons stated are always different. A meeting of workmen in Munich have been arrested for to-day, to hear the report of Herr Voltmer, their representative at the recent congress of Marxist socialists in Paris. The police however posted play-cards in different parts of the city yesterday, and advertised in the newspapers a proclamation forbidding the meeting to be held. At the appointed time to-day a strong force of police was on hand at the place designated for the meeting, and allowed no one to approach. The indignation among the more radical liberty-loving German workmen is intense, and is certain to find expression notwithstanding all the precautions of the government.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The trial of General Boulanger, before the high court senate, was resumed. The Procureur-General, continuing his address, charged that Gen. Boulanger had held a veritable political court at Clermont Venard, when he was in charge of troops there. He had originated secret intrigues, electoral agitations and a system of corrupting officials. Notwithstanding these acts, he had written to the War office disclaiming any connection with what had been done in his name. There were protest from senators belonging to the party of the right. The procureur-general declared that there were documents before the court which clearly marked the downward path of Gen. Boulanger from insubordination to intrigue, falsehood conspiracy. The Government had also evidence to show that Gen. Boulanger had tried to have conveyed to Prince Bismarck the information that he (Boulanger) only desired to be appointed consul for life.

CRITICISM ANSWERED AGAIN.

The Nor-West Farmer is now having an enjoyable chuckle over a "mare's nest" he has discovered on the bare poll of an infant cow of the Sussex breed. This remarkable discovery has been begotten by a short article of ours published in a recent issue of the HERALD. In this article we referred to the Nor-West Farmer's criticism on some remarks of ours on the Red Polled Aberdeen Angus cattle, now being bred at Hillhurst. We admit there was an error in that article in so far as the word "Sussex" was used in place of "Norfolk" in speaking of Red Polled cattle. When we said we had not before heard of a Red Polled Aberdeen Angus breed, the Nor-West Farmer saw fit to smile at our ignorance and facetiously asked if our statement was a "cold fact?" Or it was possible we had then for the first time become aware of a Red Polled breed of cattle? We answered No! and stated that the HERALD was aware of the Red Polled "Norfolk" breed—not "Sussex" as printed—and that too before the Nor-West Farmer was born, and to that statement we still adhere.

The Nor-West Farmer now admits that it never knew that there was a breed of Red Polled Aberdeen Angus until so informed by the HERALD. But if we remember rightly the statement we made was that that the HERALD had never before heard of a Red Polled Aberdeen Angus breed. And it was this statement which called forth the sneering query "Is this a cold fact?" &c. The answer we gave to this query at the time and have here repeated, and do not intend to reiterate the matter again.

We are very much obliged by the concession of the Nor-West Farmer when he offers his publishing aid to the Calgary district in respect of perpetuating any new and rare color of cattle. But should the aid thus offered accord with the practice of that "clever stock raiser, Jacob, the son of Isaac, to whom the Nor-West Farmer refers, we fear that the cowboys of the Northwest will have to spend no little of their spare time in peeling sticks for use during the breeding season, and that even then the result will be in keeping with others of the scientific theories of the Nor-West Farmer, which are electrifying if not paralyzing to an ordinary farming community.

HOSPITAL WANTED.

We beg to call attention of the Calgary hospital committee if they still exist, to the offer made by the Rev. Mr. Herridge, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Ottawa, to Mr. Wm. Pearce to deliver a lecture in Calgary on his return. The proceeds from which should be devoted to some charitable object. In the first place the rev. gentleman is one of the very ablest speakers in Canada at the present day; this alone would insure a large attendance at his lecture. Then probably there may be many different subjects which he is in the habit of lecturing on and that the committee would have the privilege of choosing from those the subject on which he would lecture, which would be most interesting and instructive to a Calgary audience. Then the object to be attained namely, the commencement of a fund for the erection of a hospital. The rev. gentleman's most generous offer should certainly be accepted. He is at present on his way to the coast stopping at points of interest as he goes. He came here in company with Mr. W. B. Search, M. P., on Saturday and is at present at Banff, he thought some of taking the trip from Victoria to Alaska, but has about abandoned that idea. If he does not go to Alaska he will be here on his return trip in about three weeks. The Rev. Mr. Herridge has arranged with him to preach in Knox Church morning and evening on the Sabbath when he will spend in Calgary and probably it could be arranged to have him lecture on the following Monday evening. Mr. Herman will be in communication with Mr. Herridge and could keep the committee posted as to his movements. It is scarcely necessary to say anything as to the importance of having an hospital in Calgary. It is fast becoming an important centre and no town of importance so far from where there is an hospital as Calgary is situated, can afford to be without an hospital. A fine site has been granted by the Government on the north side of the Bow River which will always be easily reached by Dowdney street and Langevin bridge. If Medicine Hat can afford to have an hospital surely Calgary can with its much larger population and greater wealth. If the hospital committee is defunct we would respectfully suggest to the mayor that he should call a public meeting at an early date to reconstitute the hospital committee or appoint a new one and let live men and men of experience be chosen.

THE AGRICULTURAL FAIR.

The time is rapidly approaching when the Calgary Agricultural Society will hold its fall fair. The society have done and are doing a great deal to improve the grounds and make the place attractive and convenient. A speeding course is now being graded on their fine Agricultural Park. This in itself will be a great attraction to every one interested in the development of what is likely to be Alberta's greatest and most profitable industry, namely, horse breeding. It being now a recognized fact that there is no place in the British Empire on which the sun never sets, so well adapted for this noble and profitable industry as the district of Alberta. The British Government are fast coming to understand that Alberta will be the breeding ground for Cavalry remounts and Artillery horses. Taking into account the fact that in addition to the fine display of horses made at last year's show, there has been a splendid lot of horses brought into Alberta since that time. The Society are certainly to be commended for the effort they are making to have a good course on the ground on which horse prowess can be displayed. But this is not the only important feature of the society's show. Ever since Alberta has been known to the outside world, falsehoods have been persistently circulated against us as to the grain and root growing capabilities of the country. Now it is in the interest of all well wishers of the country, and the farmers in particular, to disabuse the minds of the people of the Eastern Provinces and States on this vital point. The exhibition of grain and roots last year did good work by showing to visitors from a distance that grain and roots could be as successfully raised here as in any part of the world. Then when our exhibit was sent forward by the C. P. R. and captured their first prize over Manitoba and the entire Canadian West, we got another lift. Then when Alberta's exhibit was sent forward to Ontario, it astonished those who saw it, and began to let some light into the minds of our Eastern friends as to the true character of this country. Our June excursions from the east was another important fact in our agricultural history. But there is much more to be done before this country becomes known as it should be. A great deal depends upon the interest our farmers take in the coming fall fair. Providence has smiled upon us. We are sure to have good crops again, and why should we keep "our light under a bushel." Prizes to the amount of $2,000 will be given. There will be free entry of all articles to all members of the society. The farmer will not, therefore, run any risk as before of losing their fee for the privilege of exhibiting. But it is not the amount of prize money which any farmer may take which should be the incentive to make a good show, but the stimulus which will be given to agricultural interests generally, which should make every farmer an exhibitor.

CANADIAN CATTLE IN ENGLAND.

We recently published a long article taken from the Canadian Gazette, in which Ald. Frankland, Toronto points out of the advantages which Canadian cattle have at present in the British market over cattle imported from other countries and especially as compared with the United States. That while Canadian cattle offered in Liverpool markets were no better than those from the United States, they brought from a half penny to three-quarters of a penny more a pound live weight. This would make almost one penny per pound more on dressed weight than the Americans were getting. This the alderman points out and cannot be contradicted, is because of there being absolutely no disease amongst Canadian cattle. They are admitted in England without any restriction as to when and where they are slaughtered. Of course if we were to remove the quarantine regulations between the Canadian North-West and the British Isles. Whether our cattle became diseased or not, they would be so exposed to disease that it would be necessary for England as a matter of precaution for their own safety, to quarantine our cattle just as they now do other cattle from countries where disease is known to exist more or less. This would place Canadian cattle on par with cattle from scheduled countries and reduce the price of Canadian beef in England at least one and a half cents per pound. This would, of course be ruinous to beef raisers in the Canadian Northwest. Alderman Frankland is evidently a friend to Canadian cattle men's interests, and while his remarks apply in one respect to the prime cattle, that is their advantage in the English market over United States cattle, yet his general remarks apply more to stall-fed cattle of the Eastern provinces than to ours in the west, which is quite right from the fact that our Western shipments, up to the present, form but a small part of the Canadian shipments to England.

The Alderman suggests that Canadians should follow the example of the United States feeders and force the growth of cattle by special feeding so as to secure the same weight at a year or a year and a half less age than at present and save the feed for that period. Now, to Eastern Canadian feeders, this suggestion will apply with more force than to us in the far west, where with the limited number of cattle we have yet, and must continue to have for a few years, compared with the feeding capabilities of our prairie country, the advice of Alderman Frankland does not apply so directly. The great cost of cattle to us in the West is getting calves or young cattle. The importance of this part of the business is shown by the fact that the Quorn Ranch brought several thousand head of young cattle by rail over 2,000 miles this year to fatten on our prairies summer and winter, to be taken back over the same rail route, in two or three years. The cost to us of keeping cattle is a mere trifle and it will pay us better to keep them, once we have got them, till they are at least four years old, than to ship sooner, indeed probably five years is the best average for us to ship at, under the present condition of things, to us where the seed so to speak, costs so much, it would be like selling potatoes only half grown, to ship our cattle as young. The present government regulations for ranchers is to have one animal to each twenty acres of his ranch and the maximum rent is two cents per acre, so that forty cents is the cost of keeping an animal for one year, of course interest, care etc., added, but even with these the cost is very small. Things will change in this respect as the country grows older. It is the improvement of breeds so as to get weight which concerns us most, always of course keeping a clean bill of lard.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

A LARGE AUDIENCE LISTENS TO DALTON MCCARTHY.

The Jesuit Bill, Separate Schools and Dual Language Questions Dissected.

(From Friday's Daily.)

At one o'clock on Thursday morning No. one in Calgary was definitely informed as to whether Dalton McCarthy was going to give Calgary the go-by or not; but when No. one expressed his C. P. R. a few minutes later, Mr. McCarthy, Col. Dennison, Mr. Pepler and a party of ladies were seen to alight from one of the Pullmans. The party had secured sleeper tickets through to Banff, but having heard from Col. Herchmer and others whom they met on the train that they would miss the gem of the west if they passed Calgary in the night, they decided to spend a day here. Before retiring to rest, Mr. Braden was introduced to Mr. McCarthy and on behalf of himself and leading citizens arranged with Mr. McCarthy to deliver an address at eight o'clock last evening in the Opera House. As noted in last night's HERALD, Mr. McCarthy's party drove out to the Bow River Horse Ranch at noon, but did not get back till 7:30. It was 8:20 before Mr. McCarthy and the Colonel got to the hall. Although the notice was very short, so that not half the people in town knew of the meeting and no one outside of the town was aware of it, the hall was comfortably filled when the speakers went on the platform. Mayor Marsh presided.

Col. Dennison was introduced and delivered a short address. Our reporter was unfortunately absent from the hall during the delivery of his address and we are therefore, we regret to say, unable to give the Colonel's speech.

Mr. McCarthy was received with much enthusiasm by the large assemblage, and after a few preliminary remarks, proceeded to deal with the "Jesuit Bill" question. He said he was sorry to learn that the Governor General had been advised that the title of the crown to the lands claimed by the Jesuits was a doubtful title. I do not, said Mr. McCarthy, propose to speak for the people here as I have not yet got enough acquainted with their views, but coming through Manitoba as he had done recently, he had an opportunity of earning for himself the views of the people in that province and he was glad to be able to say that they were thoroughly alive to the questions which we had met to discuss tonight. The speaker was proud of the position that Mr. Martin, a member of the Manitoba Government had taken on these vital subjects. Mr. Martin had said that the dual language must go or we would leave the Government, and that having the French language taught in the public schools of Manitoba would not be tolerated. Mr. McCarthy related the circumstances under which the use of the dual language had been put on the Dominion statute book when the constitution of Manitoba had been framed in 1870, when the Hon. Mr. Mills was minister of the Interior. In the McKinnon administration Mr. Mills had framed the constitution without any provision for the use of the French language in official matters. The matter passed the Commons and was sent over to the Senate, while being put through the Senate a French senator chucked in the provision that French language as well as the English should be used in all provincial documents and thus changed, the bill came back to the Commons. At the closing hours of the session, Mr. Mills objected, but it was too late, the bill had to go through as it was or lay over till next session, and so it went through. Mr. Mills suggesting that if any second language was to be galized it should be the Cree or some other of the Indian languages of the province.

Mr. McCarthy, returning to the Jesuit Bill, characterized it as a most invidious measure and one that should have been disallowed from a national view of the subject. Although it was a provincial bill, it would be national in its effects. We are a nation he said comprised of many provinces, with material to make many more provinces out of, and why should the province of Quebec impose upon all the rest of the Dominion from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The language of a foreign nation and the religious belief of a society that had been expelled from every civilized country in the world. He went on to show that the power of disallowance had been wisely reserved by the Dominion Government, and that the case of the Jesuits Bill was one in which it should have in his opinion been exercised. He dwelt on the history of Quebec from the conquest by Wolfe at which time there were about 65,000 French in Canada. He pointed out how after the conquest of Quebec that by the treaty of Paris in 1763, certain religious rights and privileges had been guaranteed to the French by Britain. These they had been allowed to enjoy without molestation or interference of any kind. The French had grown and multiplied under the protection of the British flag; but now when they were getting numerically strong, they wanted to assume the role of dictators to the English people of Canada and thrust a foreign language upon them, and pass legislative enactments in reference to land matters, which should become law or not according to the decision of his holiness the Pope. I ask, said Mr. McCarthy, should this be tolerated in a British province, when the very property which this Jesuit Bill dealt with had reverted to the crown of Britain and had remained so for more than 100 years? In the year 1800 this society had been expelled from Rome itself by the Pope, and now only in 1888 they succeeded in getting a bill passed through the legislature of Quebec and allowed by the Dominion Government, giving them these estates to which they had no title in law or equity, to be disposed of as a foreign potentate may decide, in the interests of a society which would sap the very foundations of the superstructure of our Canadian Government, and how was this brought about? It was by the premier of Quebec going to Rome to obtain instructions from the Pope as to how his holiness wanted these estates to be dealt with, and the premier, Mr. Mercier, promised the Pope that the lands should not be sold without his sanction. Referring to the vote at Ottawa on the Jesuit Bill, Mr. McCarthy said it had been thrown up to him that he and the other thirteen that voted against the bill only represented about 77,000 of the people of Canada. That was true, but those represented by the other 188 members were being heard from rapidly and would probably all be heard from by the next general election, and the people of the Northwest should be preparing for the coming struggle at the polls. He quoted what Mr. Laurier had said in the House about the loyalty of the French in Quebec; but when they read the open declaration of the Party Nation-the whole Dominion. He said that they were building up a new nation on the banks of the St. Lawrence over which the tri-color was to float, their loyalty must be looked upon as a bastard loyalty. He here read extracts from what was said on this subject by prominent men at the laying of the foundation stone of a monument to Jacques Cartier. These extracts are too long for us to publish. But they are most anti British. He also read extracts from speeches of Mercier of the same character. Mercier had gone into power on Riel question and would likely go in again on the Jesuits question. One would suppose the speaker said from the position taken by Mercier that the battle of the Plains of Abraham had never been fought. He explained that the Protestants of Quebec had not separate schools on the same principal as the Catholics in Ontario; in Quebec where the Protestants are the heavy property owners, the school tax is levied on the basis of value. But is paid out on the basis of population with 20 French Canadians to a family. If any complaint is made by the protestants the answer is it cannot be changed except by the school board. That board consists of 10 bishops, 10 Catholic laymen and 10 Protestants. So it is not likely to be amended in the interests of the Protestant minority.

Mr. McCarthy referred to the French language being forced into the common schools of Eastern Ontario. He said Mr. Mowat must enforce the law against this intrusion or the people of Ontario would give him leave to resign. He said that he would dare to repeat in Calgary what he said elsewhere, that these questions might be settled now easily by the halibut, but if not so done our children would have to do it by the bayonet. He explained how the conservatives and liberals came to vote for the Jesuit Bill, but we have not space for his statement. Mr. McCarthy referred in very eulogistic terms to the friendly treatment he had received in Calgary and his astonishment to see such a splendid town and so much live business as he had found here. Before closing he promised to move in Parliament for expunging the French language from the North-West statute book. During his speech Mr. McCarthy was repeatedly cheered.

Mr. Bruce Smith in a neat speech moved a vote of thanks to Mr. McCarthy and Col. Denison. This was ably seconded by Major Walker. The mayor put the resolution which was carried by a standing vote, which was acknowledged by Mr. McCarthy and the Colonel. Three hearty cheers were given for McCarthy and the Queen. The large assembly of ladies and gentlemen then dispersed.

The Sun Dance.

To the Editor of the HERALD.
Dear Sir—I wish to express my regret that so many from Calgary have seen fit to patronize the Sarsce "Sun dances," which has been held during the past few days. Presents of money even, have been given freely. To myself as missionary, the dance must necessarily be a source of sorrow as it is a worshipping of the creature instead of the creator. To the Indian department it is also objectionable as it draws the Indians away from their fields etc, and makes them less ready to settle down again for some time to come to those industries in which they are being instructed. Our work amongst the Indians is naturally difficult, but now much more does it become so, when our own people, allow their curiosity to over-ride their better judgement, and not only patronize the Pagan festival, but even venture to persuade the Indians to prolong it, as was the case yesterday. I am persuaded that if our friends only thought of the meaning and tendency of the "Sun dances" they would not be so ready to patronize it.

I am yours faithfully,
H. W. GIBSON STOCKES,
Church of England Missionary.

Mr. McCarthy's Address.

To the Editor of the HERALD.

SIR.—The hearty applause with which Mr. McCarthy was so frequently greeted during the delivery of his able and interesting address in the Opera House here on Thursday evening, showed how thoroughly his large audience were in sympathy with the talented speaker and with the sentiments he so clearly and ably expressed—that the Province of Quebec is apparently working and scheming with a view to becoming independent of that nation who fostered and protected, shall I say pampered her all these years, there can be little doubt, and the spread of the French language over the other Provinces only proves how too successful they have been in making their influence felt over

Now, Sir, we are unmistakably British and this must be put a stop to, as we intend to remain British. The expense of the continued printing of all government papers in French, outside the Province of Quebec, is a mere waste of the public money, more especially as regards the western provinces, where these foreign prints are not even looked at. These and other concessions made to our fellow subjects are not appreciated and have not increased their feeling of loyalty in the least. I believe, on the contrary, it only appears to encourage them in their demands and in their continued secret intriguing against that power which has treated them so generously and with so much consideration.

How differently they would have been ruled by any other nation. Look at Russia in Poland, where the Polish language is not allowed to be spoken even, and nearer home in Alsace and Lorraine, where the French language is also suppressed, the great German Chancellor wisely considering that the continuation of a foreign language on what is now German territory is not conducive to good government. Won't he not very soon make short work with our "strange province"? We have often heard of the apathy of our statesmen. Have their sons degenerated from their sires? Are we to forget what the priceless privilege of civil and religious liberty which we now enjoy, cost our noble ancestors, and how heroically they fought at home and abroad against tyranny and oppression, and when opportunity occurred, to add to the possessions of the British Crown and thereby freely bestow upon the conquered more security to life and property and other greater benefits than they before enjoyed. Should the Province of Quebec, as some think it may, hoist the tri-color flag I say emphatically (if constitutional means fail) lose not a day, but march in and re-conquer and place the Province on a more secure basis for the future. In doing so we are only following the example, if example were needed, of our neighbors over the line, where they had a much more serious undertaking on hand, and how thoroughly they accomplished their work. The loss of even a portion of a single province in our midst would be the commencement of the dismemberment of our great Empire, and to all our patriotic rulers and to all loyal Britons I would say, watch keenly the progress of events and be prepared to defend our constitution at all hazards, and to hand down unimpaired to our children that glorious heritage bequeathed to us by our heroic forefathers.

A LOYAL CITIZEN.

Calgary 10th August.

Distinguished Visitors

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

This morning the private pullman sleeper "Saskatchewan" arrived from the east by No. one express train. The car was detached from the train at Calgary and remained here till about 10:30 a. m., when it was attached to a freight train and went west. The distinguished occupants of the car were Mrs. W. C. Var Horne and her mother, Mrs. Hurd, also Mrs. Van Horne's two daughters, Miss A. Van Horne and Miss Nellie Van Horne, also Mrs. Weisenberger of Chicago. The car and party are in charge of Mr. J. H. French, the popular manager of private car excursions on the C. P. R. They came through direct from Montreal to Calgary. While here, the ladies took a walk through the principal streets of the town, and expressed themselves much pleased with the advancement the town is making. Their programme is to spend the day at the beautiful and romantic falls of the Kananaskis River, where Major Walker's mills are situated, from there they will go to Banff and remain at the C. P. R. hotel for a day. They will then proceed to Field and the Glacier, and afterwards visit all the points of interest along the C. P. R. in the mountains, reaching Vancouver in about a week. They will visit Victoria and New Westminster and then make the return trip to Montreal via the C. P. R.

The Medical Association at Banff.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

BANFF, ALBA., Aug. 12.—The members of the Medical Association in number upwards of 160, reached here at 9:40 Sunday p. m. They were met at the depot by carriages and conveyed to the C. P. R. hotel where a suitable supper was ready awaiting the guests. The town presented an attractive appearance in the matter of illuminations and arches of welcome. The Association met at 10:30 this forenoon in Moulton's Pavilion, being called to order by Dr. Ross, the retiring president. Dr. Wright, of Ottawa, the president elect, then took the chair, with Dr. Bell, of Montreal, secretary. Several visiting members were then introduced and some routine business gone through. An address of welcome by the citizens of Banff was read by Dr. Brett, the resident physician of the town.

A pleasing feature was the attendance of number of medical men from the United States to whom a cordial greeting was extended, as many as possible being accorded seating upon the platform. Several notes were read from Canadian medical men, who have been unavoidably prevented attending. Reports were presented by the several committees.

The president, Dr. Wright then proceeded with his address, in the course of which he paid a suitable tribute to the late Dr. Howard, detailing the several positions held by him, his assistance to the profession and his social as well as scholarly capabilities were ably set forth by Dr. Wright and to which the Association very heartily responded. He referred at length to the sanitary benefits to be derived from the Hot Springs and air of Banff—to the need of a National Board of Health—the placing of Physiology and Chemistry upon the public and High School curriculum, thereby benefiting the student previously to his actual study of medicine, four years not being sufficient to fully master these subjects and thus leading to more practical instruction. He dwelt in an exhaustive manner upon the subject of "Tuberculosis" under its different phases of perpetuation.

The Medical Association of Manitoba next received a review, in the course of which it was shown that since the arrival of the first medical men in 1874 there have developed a College Association and a fully established medical organization.

British Columbia has also similar organizations. The president hailed with delight these several provinces meeting together under the one order through its distinguished representatives: New York, Cincinnati, Detroit, Chicago and several other cities of the States are represented, to whom the president tendered a cordial welcome.

The Association adjourned at one o'clock to meet at 8:00 for evening session and at 10:00 o'clock on Tuesday.

Mr. A. E. Lalancie, travelling passenger agent, who has accompanied the Association, receives expressions of praise for his attention to the requirements of the members while en-route.

The evening meeting opened at 8:00. Dr. Wright in the chair. The time of the Association was chiefly occupied in discussions upon amendments and alterations in the by-laws, copies of which were distributed to members. Drs. Ross, Grikie, Hinckson, Sloan, Lindsay, Brett, Hudson and O'Reilly took part in these discussions.

The Association adjourned at 10:45, to meet at 10:00 a. m. Tuesday, when the business will be concluded.

The visitors are delighted with the scenery, the music by the Mounted Police band and high praise is expressed towards the manager of the hotel for his courtesy and attention.

Agricultural Cabinet.

We have examined a lot of agricultural products at the office of G. C. Marsh, grown on the farm of S. N. Shaw, Midnapore. These samples comprise two varieties of cabbage, 2 of potatoes, 1 of beets, 1 of turnips, one of carrots and 2 of beans, 2 of peas and six sheaves of grain, wheat, oats, and barley, most of the vegetables were planted on the 4th of May, wheat sown April 6, oats April 18. Barley May 23, flax May 27. They are splendid samples and add one more proof of the long list of evidences already published in the HERALD, from time to time, of the agricultural capabilities of Alberta. Mr. Marsh who intends going to Ontario, in a couple of days will take some of these with him to the east. Call and see them at the New York Life Office in the Alberta Hotel Block.

Medicine Men

Members of the medical association to the number of about 150, many of them accompanied by their wives and daughters, arrived by special train from the east at 17:30 o'clock Sunday. The train consisted of engine No. 144, baggage car 203, dining car Buckingham, private car no number, sleepers, Calgary Canton, Auckland, Nippon and Keewatin. Gen. Supt. White of Winnipeg was on board and Supt. Niblock accompanied the party through his division from Medicine Hat to Banff. The association are holding their annual convention at Banff National Park this year, and will be in session for 3 days. A large number of ladies and gentlemen congregated on the platform to meet the train, and many were the pleasant meetings of old friends. After the association closes its labors the members will disperse in various directions, many of them have promised Calgary a call on the return trip.

Her Little Boys.

Mrs. Mackay, wife of the California millionaire, has just returned from France. She arrived at New York the other day by the steamship City of Paris. Mrs. Mackay, who spends much of her time in Paris, brought her two boys with her, and has entered their names on the roll of under graduates at Yale College.

THE CITY FATHERS

Hold and Important Meeting Last Night
[From Wednesday's Daily.]

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Town Council was held last night at 8 o'clock in the old council chamber on Drinkwater Street. The old council room has been calcomined and varnished up so it is quite cosy. The town police have done good work in moving the furniture and putting the present council room in order.

His Worship Mayor Marsh and all the Councillors were present. In the absence of the town clerk, Councillor King acted as clerk. The minutes of the last regular meeting and of a special meeting held on the 25th of July were read and adopted. The first business of the evening being reading of original communications.

A letter was read from C. Sparrow, secretary of the Agricultural Society, asking for improvements to be made on Oler Street such as will make it passable for those attending the exhibition on the 9th and 10th of October. This letter was referred to the Public Works Committee.

A long report was read from Chief Dilabaugh, in compliance with instructions from the last meeting of the Council, on the state of the streets and lanes and where persons have encroached on the highways with buildings, fences or other obstructions. This report, which was very exhaustive, was referred to the committee on Police and Relief. The report pointed to a great many infringements on public property.

A letter was read from J. D. Ronald, written to chairman Grant, in reply to one written to Mr. Ronald asking for a detailed statement of his claim. A statement accompanied the letter. After some discussion the letter and account were referred to the Fire, Water and Light to report at next meeting of the Council.

A letter addressed to chairman Grant from P. A. Prince in reference to his proposal to put in an electric light system, was read. It was considered by the Council that the proposals of Mr. Prince re electric light were not sufficiently explicit and the matter was allowed to stand over till more definite information is furnished by Mr. Prince as to what system he would put in, where he would be willing to place lights and the length of time he would furnish light for in each twenty four hours.

A letter from General Superintendent Whyte of the C. P. R. to E. P. Davis, town clerk, was read, in reference to having the town execute a lease of the cattle yards to the C. P. R., but as Mr. Whyte had already intimated that the cattle yards would likely be moved further east before long, it was decided to take no action on the letter at present, and it was ordered to be filed. This closed the reading of letters, and a number of new accounts were next read and referred to their respective committees.

The report of W. F. Orr, chairman of Public Works, Property and Railways was next read as follows:

1. We beg to recommend that the petition of the Rev. A. W. F. Coover and forty others praying for a sidewalk on the north side of McIntyre Avenue from Oler Street be granted and that the sidewalk be six feet wide, and that the necessary crossing be put in to connect with the sidewalk on Drinkwater Street.

2. We beg leave to recommend that in the matter of the petition of J. Feehan and thirty two others, praying for a sidewalk from the south side of the C. P. R. track to Van Horne Avenue. That as soon after the C. P. R. company have graded up Oler Street, south of the track, so a sidewalk can be properly built from the south side, that a six foot walk be built from the south side of the track on the west side of Oler Street to connect with the walk now laid down in front of the premises occupied by Mr. Feehan, and that the necessary hand railing be put on the west side of the walk and a crossing put on Pacific Avenue. We also recommend that the necessary grading be done on Oler Street, just south of the C. P. R. right of way to make the road passable, at a probable cost of $30.

3. We beg leave to recommend that in the matter of the petition of James Reilly and thirty others for a sidewalk from the corner of Atlantic Avenue and McTavish Street along the east side of McTavish Street to the C. P. R. platform be granted by the construction of a six foot sidewalk and a crossing on Atlantic Avenue.

4. We beg leave to recommend that the 4 foot sidewalk be extended from where it terminates at the premises of Miss Critchley on Angus Avenue to the residence of John Bangs.

5. We beg leave to recommend that the sidewalk be completed at Mr. M. Harris' corner, merely to connect the two crossings at that point.

6. We beg leave to recommend that the 4 foot sidewalk on Rainach Avenue in front of Mr. James Thomson's be extended 25 feet so as to cover a low spot.

7. We beg leave to recommend that a crossing be put from A. Allan's corner to George Leeson's corner on Angus Avenue.

8. We beg leave to recommend that the present 8 foot sidewalk on Atlantic Avenue be extended from where it terminates east of the Union Hotel, to the residence of Ralph Bell.

The report of the committee on Markets and Health was next read. The chairman, Geo. Murdoch, explained some matters in connection with the market fees, he reported that $294 had been collected for the first half year of 1889. One half of this amount goes to the weigh master, leaving $147 net revenue. There were 200 loads weighed which were not paid for, at 25 cents a load. The parties avoided payment by getting their loads weighed and promising to come back and get their wagons weighed and pay up, but knowing the weight of their wagons before they never returned to pay. The council were of the opinion that the weigh master should be held responsible for all weighing done on the town scales.

MARKETS.

The report provided for the committee going on with market building according to estimates. It was moved by Grant and King that the report, all but the portion providing for going on with building be adopted, this was lost. Councillors King and Grant voting for it. Fitzgerald, Orr Murdoch and Bannerman against it. It was then moved by Orr and Fitzgerald that the whole report be adopted, empowering the committee to expend the appropriation for market house in such a way as is provided in the by-laws. This was carried by the mover and seconder, and Councillors Bannerman and Murdoch voting for the resolution. Very much speaking was indulged in on the market question which we have not space for.

Mr. Fitzgerald, chairman of the committee on by-laws etc., brought in a long report, principally dealing with the question of licenses. The report was to the effect that most of those keeping public places of entertainment were willing to pay license. But some of the saloon keepers objected on various grounds, some going so far as to say that the town could not collect the license. The committee reported that they had taken legal advice, and felt confident that the license by-law could be enforced they recommended that the law should be enforced or rescinded as it was not fair to those who were willing to comply with the law, that others should escape. It was resolved by the council that the by-law should be enforced and all treated alike in the matter of license.

When the by-law matter was decided, the question of further expenditure for public improvements was taken up, and the report of chairman Orr on Public Works was discussed in an somewhat irregular manner. At this point his worship read a statement which he had prepared of the conditions of the finances of the town, showing that when all the salaries and other expenditures which we are obliged to provide for, are made, there would be a deficit of about $2,000 without building any new sidewalks. This was he said in consequence of debt left over by former councils, for the present one to pay. Councillor Fitzgerald who had suggested when the market expenditure was being discussed, that we should not stint ourselves in what is necessary even if we should leave a small debt for our successors, got very saving and thought we could manage to walk on the prairie. Councillor Orr urged strongly for the sidewalk to be built at the English school, also on Oler street south of the railway and at the Royal and Alberta hotels. On motion of Councillors King and Grant the whole report got a two week's hold except grading on Oler street and finishing sidewalk on west side of Alberta hotel.

E. R. Rogers chief of the fire brigade, and treasurer Smart, waited on the council with a list of articles which they considered necessary for proper equipment. It was resolved that the request of the brigade be referred to the committee on Fire Water and Light, with power to get such things as are immediately necessary without reference to the council.

A by-law was introduced and put through its readings to cancel by-law No. 81 which granted a franchise to the Calgary Gas & Water Works Company to sell for natural gas, the limit within which they were to bore having lapsed without anything having been done.

The Sun Dance
One of those barbarous practices which is a relic of pagan superstition is going on just now at the Barrow Reserve, five or six miles south of this civilized and at least nominally christianized town. A considerable number of Calgarians have gone out to see the dance and several strangers from the far east who have read what doubtless seemed like a romance to them, about these dances, have also, driven out to the reserve to witness the performance of torturing the would be braves, by lacerating their flesh and jerking out strips of flesh, the process of establishing an Indian's character as a "brave." We need not describe, as it has been so often written up. Those who have once seen the process are generally so disgusted that they do not want to see it again. The brave who can dance from sunrise to sunset to the tum tum music of the crude Indian drum and after having holes cut in his flesh like putting a rowell into a horse. Put a string through the hole and then jerk the flesh out and keep up the dance while the sun is up. Of course he is looked upon by the shy Indian maiden as worthy of the hand of the best girl on the reserve. We understand that it is entirely voluntary on the part of the young Indians who enter on the inhuman task; but custom has made it almost compulsory and it is made the topic of many querying conversations amongst the maidens as the time approaches for the dance to come off, who the volunteers will be. To shine in the black eyes of the dusky daughters of the prairie is no doubt the incentive which prompts many a young buck to undergo the ordeal.

Concert at Banff.
We have been favored by our Banff correspondent with some particulars of a concert and ice cream social given at the National Park a few days ago, in connection with the Methodist church at Banff. This was the social event of the season and was a most decided success. There were ladies and gentlemen present from Calgary, Canmore, Anthracite, Field and Donald. Mr. P. Yeomans of Morley school was chairman. Mr. Yeomans discharged the duties of the position with great credit, his wit and talent helped to make the evening very enjoyable. The social was held in Moulton's pavilion, which most of our readers know is situated in a beautiful grove on the banks of the Bow River. The pavilion was crowded to overflowing. One of the chief attractions of the entertainment was the presence of 12 Indians from the Methodist mission at Morley. These Indians by singing in their native tongue some beautiful hymns, and their civilized appearance gave proof of the good work that is being accomplished at the mission. The band of E. Div. N. W. M. F. who are now having their holidays at Banff, were present, and by their discoursing music in their usual well known excellent style contributed largely to the pleasure of the evening. In fact there was a peculiar charm in its strains of music, wending through the grove and on the bosom of the wild and beautiful Bow River, Calgary's loss by the band, is Banff's gain. Amongst those present who assisted at the concert by vocal and instrumental music are Mrs. H. Ransford, Mrs. Cardinal. Amongst those conspicuous in helping to satisfy the inner man by serving ice cream cake, fruit etc., in great profusion, were Miss M. Smith, Mrs. Geo. Hannan, Mrs. D. J. Moulton, Mrs. H. Ransford and Mrs. J. Neelin. The social closed at 11 p. m. A most pleasant evening was spent, and about $100 raised for church purposes.

Mr. J. D. Mollison general manager for Sir John Lester Kaye's ten great farms has just returned from a trip of three weeks inspecting the condition of the whole of 7 farms along the line of the C. P. THE WEEK'S LOCAL NEWS

Wednesday.

E. E. Boyer of "New West" came down from Banff this morning where he has been stopping for a few days, he goes to Vancouver tonight.

Ex-Mayor Shelton, Walter Whitmore and Eugene Watson left Calgary by No. 1 express this morning for a trip to Vancouver and the other coast cities.

Last night was the coldest we have had for a long time and there was some fear of frost. We have gone round to see several gardens to-day and also met farmers from all sides of the town, and find that there was not the slightest harm done by the cold which did not amount to frost.

We notice by the Medicine Hat that a party named "Red McLeod" had come in with a band of horses from Montana. It is to be hoped that this stockman will not be mistaken for a man of the same name, for whom there is a couple of warrants out in Calgary.

Some vicious dogs are making sad havoc of the chickens about town. Who ever own the dogs that must have spring chicken for breakfast, had better keep them at home, as vengeance is sworn against them by the police. This morning Mrs. Lee, Stephen Avenue east, had eight young turkeys and chickens killed by a dog after they came off the roost. Mrs. A. L. Cameron lost six or eight chickens by dogs within two or three days. Not only these people, but many others have complained to the Chief about losing chickens by dogs.

It appears that the "Red McLeod" referred to in a clipping from the Medicine Hat Times is no other than the genuine old beamer, who infested this town in former days. It is reported that he has been at his old performances down at the Hat, getting drunk and raising a row in a house of ill-fame. The Mounted Police arrested him and he had to deposit $50 for bail. Our local police inform us that his presence is requested in Calgary on several charges and that they are using means to affect his capture.

Thursday.

Mr. R. W. Henry of Glasgow, Scotland, arrived by No. 1 this morning.

Hon. Senator M. H. Cochrane of Hillhurst, P. Q., is in town, registered at the Royal Hotel.

W. Gordon Cumming, nephew of the African lion tamer, "Royal Tiger" Creek is stopping at the Royal Hotel.

J. H. Morrison, I. Coe and G. E. Goddard, of the Bow River Horse Ranch Co., are in town to-day.

Each, Indian chief of the Stony Plain reserve, is said to have the best crop of wheat in this settlement.—Edmonton Bulletin.

Miss Edwards of London England proprietor of the Brighton Horse Ranch, Bow River, arrived from England this morning and is registered at the Royal.

I. G. Henderson of the Henderson Directory Co., Winnipeg, returned from a trip amongst the ranchers last night, and is at the Royal.

A head of lettuce a foot in diameter and a cucumber eight inches in length were left at this office the other day by Thos. Anderson, Crown Timber Agent.—Edmonton Bulletin.

We learn that the C. P. R. are collecting men from all the sections on the western portion of the prairie part of the line, and taking them away to work on the Regina and Long Lake railway.

A monster egg was shown us by Mr. Fred Lepenure of the Royal Hotel, the product of one of Mrs. Rielly's Plymouth Rock hens. It weighed 4 ounces, say four to the pound. It takes from 9 to 10 ordinary eggs to weigh one pound.

Two hen eggs were shown at this office on Wednesday, one having a circumference of seven by eight inches and the other of a very little less. They were the same shape as ordinary eggs, and were laid by hens belonging to Joseph Russell of East Edmonton.—Edmonton Bulletin.

Jr. M. Matthews and Thomas McMartin of the Royal Canadian Academy, Toronto are in town. These gentlemen are travelling in the interest of "Art" the object being to take sketches of all points of note in and about Calgary, and then go to the mountains to sketch there. It is unfortunate for them that the weather is so very smoky at present.

D'Alton McCarthy, Q. C., M. P., of Toronto, and Mrs. McCarthy arrived by No. 1 express this morning. In the same party are Col. E. C. Dennison, commander of the Governor General's Guards, Toronto, and Mrs. Dennison, also F. E. P. Pepler, Q. C., mayor of Barrie, Ont., and law partner of Mr. McCarthy in the Barrie branch of their business. The party were met at the station by W. E. Orr, formerly captain commanding the 1st militia district county of Wentworth, Ont., and escorted to the Royal Hotel. To-day at noon the party were by direction of Mr. Fred White, comptroller of the N. W. M. P., who is at present in town, driven out to the Bow River Horse Ranch with a 4 in hand Police team and wagon.

The Rev. M. Herridge, minister of St. Andrews Church Ottawa, was in Calgary this morning. This eloquent divine offers to deliver a lecture in here, on his return about 3 weeks hence in aid of any charitable object. Now is the time to start the hospital ball a rolling.

The following parties arrived this morning by No. 1 express in Supt. Niblock's car:—W. B. Scarth, M. P., of Winnipeg, chairman of the C. P. R. Townsite Trustees. J. S. Tupper of the law firm of Tupper and Macdonald, Winnipeg, Miss Marian Scarth and Mr. Scarth's two sons. The party left in the private car, attached to a freight at 11:30 o'clock.

Saturday.

Mrs. Arthur Wallis and Mr. Jas. Lovel of Alvinston, Ont., arrived at Calgary this morning and are registered at the Royal Hotel. Mrs. Wallis has come to reside here, her husband having been here for some years.

Rather an exciting run in took place this morning about 8 o'clock. Some parties that had been out to see the sun dance at the Sarcee reserve were keeping late hours, driving round in a cab. They were accompanied by one of the "Doves" from section 16. Constable Barker thinking it time the doves had gone to roost, took this wandering star down to the city dormitory. She objected to the style of furnishings of the Boudir, and as her sylvian tones re-echoed the stillness of the night. Some of her friends of the masculine persuasion came down and put up the needful and took the dove away.

In mentioning the arrival of Mr. Scarth yesterday a mistake was made by saying "his two sons" it should have read "his son."

To-day closes the examination of 1889, in the Northwest Territories for teachers certificates. Six candidates presented themselves for examination at Calgary, four of whom were pupils in the public school. The candidates distributed themselves as follows:—Three for third class, two for second and one for first class certificate. School re-opens Monday, when the high school branch will be inaugurated in the principal.

Mr. E. Daly, of Ed. Daly & Co., Tea Merchants, of Nanapanee, Ont., arrived in Calgary yesterday. Mr. Daly is on a trip of investigation in the Calgary district with a view of investing in the country. His ideas of this country were somewhat brightened when he saw the splendid samples of the Wheat, oats and barley in the HERALD window cut from the farrow of Dr. Lindsay and C. Carney joining the town, and also saw samples of last year's grain and the coal which is drawn in by the farmers from the surrounding country.

Before leaving for the west yesterday morning Major Walker and Col. McIlree took Col. and Mrs. Denison, Mrs. McCarthy and Pepler out for a drive of a few miles in their private carriages round the outskirts. Mr. McCarthy, who was busy making calls about town up to the time of the train starting, did not go out with the others. The ladies expressed themselves as being delighted with the natural beauties of the surroundings. Mr. Pepler, who has been quite a traveller, both on this continent and in Europe said, "It is the most wonderful town I have seen for its age and the age of the country around it. Nothing can prevent it from being a great city."

A splendid sample of ripe oats of the Welcome variety has been laid on our counter to-day by Mr. Patterson of Sheep Creek. They are from a field of fifty acres grown by Mr. Patterson this year and are a full refutation of the oft repeated story that we can't raise oats in the Calgary district.

An arrangement has been completed between the Councillors and the Trustees settling all points of dispute. The town solicitor, E. P. Davis, appeared for and with the Council, and J. Oil Oil.

Stewart Paye and Charles Carter of Calgary have gone on a trip to the new oil fields to stake out claims taken up for them by Mr. A. P. Patrick. This oil discovery is likely to materialize into one of the most important discoveries ever made in the Canadian west. As the discoverers are only now establishing their claims, they may not want to have much said about the locality yet but we are free to say that it is within about 120 miles of Calgary and on the open prairie so that a railway can be built to it with but little expense. A sample of the oil is before us as we write. It is what is called surface oil, and is the best lubricator in the world. From large experience in the oil fields of Canada we assert that wherever this surface oil exists rock or illuminating oil exists not far from it.
